Five-day ASIST Training for Trainers (ASIST T4T) course

The essential learning experience for becoming an ASIST trainer

- Price for most locations in North America is $2,600 USD or $2,700 CAD per candidate.
- Deduct $450 USD or $500 CAD when local sponsor provides facilities, equipment, refreshments and lunches.
- Number of candidates per course should be 24 or multiples of 24. Other configurations are possible but may increase per-candidate costs. Contact LivingWorks for other arrangements.

Early support for ASIST trainers

Valuable supplements ensuring a trainer's career development

- Team with a Consulting Trainer, one on one, before, during and after an ASIST workshop
- Share a Consulting Trainer with up to three other trainers before, during and after an ASIST workshop that all are doing together
 - either option: $1,100 USD or $1,500 CAD for the Consulting Trainer plus expenses
 - check with LivingWorks for availability and expense estimates
- Contract for one-half day or a whole day of consulting time to use in preparation for and review of ASIST workshops
 - $175 USD or $250 CAD per half day for the Consulting Trainer plus expenses
 - by phone or in person
 - check with LivingWorks for availability and expense estimates

Additional learning opportunities

Learn to present programs that support and promote ASIST

- Start with a two-day review of ASIST processes and learn how to present suicideTALK
- At a later date, attend another two days tailored to your needs
 - price for most locations in North America is $650 USD or $900 CAD per trainer for each two-day opportunity
 - deduct $114 USD or $175 CAD when local sponsor provides facilities, equipment, refreshments and lunches
 - minimum of 15 for starting two days, 20 for additional two days; maximum of 30
 - usually scheduled and paid for at time of ASIST T4T
- Any group of certified trainers may schedule either of these learning opportunities or request to join another group who have scheduled (check with LivingWorks)
